Byki O-40	5	Premier Soccer League Over 40 B Division
Real FC	1	Oak Brook Sports Core 30 September 2018

Byki make short work of short-handed Real

The Over 40 Team continued their good run of form last Sunday when they easily dispatched 10-man Real FC 5:1 at Oak Brook. Newcomer Eric Eichler scored one goal and set up two others, while midfielder Ade Ekundayo bagged two goals. The Byki have racked up 16 points in their last eight matches to offset a very slow start to the season, when they managed just two points in the first six games.

In the first meeting between the sides in July, Real also played with ten, but managed to tough out a 1:1 draw on a day when the Byki attack kept tripping over their own feet. On Sunday, the Byki took control early, going 2:0 up before 15 minutes had elapsed. Their strong start might have been motivated by Eric Tower's impassioned pre-game chat, where he exhorted the team to do bad things with the body parts of Real players. Although no Real players appeared worse for wear at the end of the 90 minutes, it was clear that Tower's approach differed from Doug Towsey's "Let's play our game" team talk.

Indeed, the Byki were on the board in the game's first minute, as Real tried to organize their nine-man squad (the tenth player finally arrived in the 18th minute). In Tower's 4-4-2 arrangement, Diego Penafiel was given a free role and made the most of it when he sent in a cross from the right wing for Eichler on the left side of the Real penalty area. Eichler tumbled to the ground as he hit a first-time shot that was blocked by the goalkeeper. Ekundayo was perfectly positioned for the follow-up, giving the Byki a 1:0 lead.

Twelve minutes later, the Byki came on the counter. Andy Lane found Penafiel on the left side and he took off on a long solo run. The Real keeper came far off his line to challenge and failed to win the ball. Penafiel centered for Eichler, whose one-time shot went through the legs of the Real defender standing on the goal line.

The Byki gifted a goal to the visitors in the 22nd minute. Central defender Dave Fink tried to dribble out of pressure in his own box and was dispossessed by a Real player, who easily slotted home to cut the deficit to 2:1.

But that error was the only blemish on a Byki team that gained command of the midfield and refused to let go. Paul Gibbs, making his Over 40 debut thanks to the Over 30s being idle for a long period prior to the playoffs, combined with Lane and Ekundayo to dictate the flow of the match.

The Byki regained their two-goal edge seven minutes before halftime. Sean Marquez fired a long shot from 25 yards and the keeper did well to block the attempt. He couldn't hang on to the ball and Steven Pedlow cleaned things up for his second tally of the campaign.

Tower expressed some level of dissatisfaction at halftime, trying to get the players to raise their game. The Byki clearly were bossing the field in the first 45 minutes, but were also missing that killer instinct that would translate to complete domination of the opponent.

Fatigue certainly played a role for Real as the game wore on. One player limped off injured right before the break, but showed mettle when he came out for the second half willing to stand in the goal.

The Byki needed 20 minutes of the second half to eventually add to their total. A splendid combination play set up Carlin Metzger for his second goal of the season. Ekundayo started the sequence, laying off for Eichler, who quickly played it to Metzger. The midfielder measured his shot well, firing home from the top of the box to make it 4:1.

Eight minutes later, the Byki zig-zagged through the Real defense. Gabriel Rodriguez carried along the left wing and sent a pass inside for BK Park, who gave the ball right back to Rodriguez as he continued his run along the flank. He took the ball down to the endline and crossed to the far post. Ekundayo outjumped everyone and nodded into the back of the net for an insurmountable 5:1 lead.

Although it is too late for the Byki to make a significant climb in the standings, their current form will serve as a good foundation for the playoffs. They have played some good soccer against the league's best sides lately. In a single-elimination format, any team can win one game, and the Byki would be just two wins away from a spot in the final.

BYKI LINEUP (4-4-2): Vlahakis – Towsey, Fukar, Fink, Zarate – Lane, Metzger, BK, Park, Ekundayo (c) – Eichler, Penafiel. Bench: Brough, Gibbs, Marquez, Pedlow, G. Rodriguez.
